CENTURY 21® Team Send disabled Kids to Easter Seals™ Camp

Vancouver, BC, November 3, 2011 – CENTURY 21 In Town Realty has raised over $10,400 this year in efforts to send kids with disabilities to an Easter Seals camp in BC.

"We would like to thank everyone who has helped out this year including our friends and family," says Michael LaPrairie, Owner of CENTURY 21 In Town Realty.

Their latest event, the 2nd Annual Halloween Pumpkin Give Away was a success, topping last year's inaugural event. On October 22, the team at CENTURY 21 In Town Realty gave away six boxes of pumpkins and raised $1,243.25.

"CENTURY 21 In Town Realty has done a great job supporting Easter Seals in British Columbia," says Brian Rushton, Senior Vice President of Operations at CENTURY 21 Canada. "Because of their efforts, a few more children with disabilities will be able to experience something special."

In 2008, CENTURY 21 Canada created the Kids to Camp program, which raises funds to send children with disabilities to Easter Seals camps across the country. Since its inception, over 550 children have been given the opportunity to experience a summer at camp.

Easter Seals camp programs serve more than 6,000 children with disabilities annually at locations across the country. For more than 30 years CENTURY 21 Real Estate Professionals have been supporting children living with disabilities across Canada. CENTURY 21 sales representatives from coast to coast participate in Easter Seals events like The Drop Zone and 24 Hour Relay or come up with unique and fun community events of their own design that bring community together to benefit the Easter Seals cause.
